REVIEW

MANAGEMENT OF ESTATES

IN THE

COURT OF WARDS,

OR UNDER THE

TALÚQDÁRS' RELIEF ACT

IN OUDH

FOR THE YEAR ENDING 30TH SEPTEMBER, 1884.

1. THE report for the year 1883-84 deals with the returns of 58 estates, of which 21 were managed under the provisions of the Talúqdárs' Relief Act and 37 were in the Court of Wards. In addition to these, the estate of Bansi was under management during the early part of the year, but no statistics regarding it have been furnished, nor do the appendices include the returns of the properties of Gularia Parbastnagar and Palia in Kheri, which form parts of estates that have been brought under management in the North-Western Provinces. The only estate of which the management was assumed for the first time during the year was the small property of Mamrezpur, in the Fyzabad district. It belongs to three minors, the eldest of whom will shortly attain his majority. The estate was at the end of the year held under direct management under section 79 of the Land Revenue Act, pending completion of a partition.

2. The total rental demand of the year for the 58 estates amounted to Rs. 16,11,528, and the sum of Rs. 3,07,225 was due on account of arrears. In the following statement a comparison is made of the rental of the estates in each division during the year and that preceding it, those estates being omitted that do not appear in the returns of both years :—

	1883-84. Rs.	1882-83. Rs.
Lucknow	2,59,869	2,51,230
Sitapur	2,11,620	2,10,049
Fyzabad	2,68,775	2,72,542
Rae Bareli	8,57,495	8,36,519
Total	15,97,759	15,70,340

The figures of the Bela-Bhela estate have been omitted, as half of the current year's rental only has been shown in the returns. In the Lucknow Division the increase of rental occurs almost entirely in the Bhilwal estate in Bara Banki, and the greater part of it is due to the bringing under the District Officer's management of an outlying portion that had previously been under attachment by the Civil Court. Extension of cultivation and enhancement of rents account for an increase of about Rs. 1,500 in the rentals in this division. In the Fyzabad Division there is a decrease in the rental of the Gonda and Bahraich estates, which in the report from the former district is unexplained. In the latter it is due partly to light harvests in grain-rented tracts, partly to the substitution of leasing for direct management in the case of a few villages, and partly to the relinquishment of a portion of one estate. In the Rae Bareli Division most estates show an increase of rental, which is attributed in part to special causes, but seems generally to be the result of the gradual systematising of the management. The improvements that have been effected in former years have had a beneficial effect on both the rental and the collections. In Partábgarh, by abolishing middlemen and dealing directly with the tenants, the Deputy Commissioner effected arrangements that were very advantageous to the estates. In one village it was found that the patwári and his relatives intercepted a considerable share of the assets.

3. In the following table an abstract is given of appendix I, in which the demand and collections of rent from land are shown in detail for each estate. The total collections on account of current rents and arrears were somewhat in excess of one year's full rental, and as the season was not altogether a favourable one, the result strengthens the conclusion, formed upon previous experience, that the properties under official control are by no means rackrented :—

The rents were on the whole collected with ease, and no undue pressure seems to have been applied by the managers. As a rule, a general supervision over these officials by the estates officers was found sufficient to secure consideration in their treatment of the tenants; but in one district (Gonda) the Deputy Commissioner issued definite orders that tenants who had paid a certain proportion of their rents should not be pressed for the balance.

4. The outstanding rent balances have in most districts been carefully enquired into by the officers in charge, and proposals have been submitted for the removal from the rent-roll of such as are absolutely irrecoverable. In addition to the amount struck off under the authority of Commissioners, amounting in all to Rs. 11,289, the following remissions have been sanctioned by the Government :—

	Rs.
Lucknow	6,695
Sitapur	1,605
Fyzabad	1,694
Rae Bareli	18,357

The Lieutenant-Governor and Chief Commissioner is glad to observe that a systematic inquiry has now been made into the large balances that have been allowed to accumulate in the books of the Rae Bareli estates. Detailed statements for the greater number of these properties have not yet been received by the Government, but it is understood that they will shortly be submitted. In the Kori Sadauli estate alone the balances that have been, after careful local inquiry, pronounced absolutely irrecoverable amount to over Rs. 12,000.

No statements have yet been received from the Gonda and Bara Banki districts, as the officers in charge had not been able to complete the necessary local investigations. The sifting of the rent balances is one of the manager's duties, which should never be neglected. It is probably impossible every year to examine the arrears of every estate, but even a paper inspection of the collections in every village should be made. Without it the failures, which, for example, the Deputy Commissioner of Bahraich has furnished the Government with the means of noticing in the appendix, are always possible. As a whole, collections may appear to be excellent, and yet particular villages may have been allowed to fall into defaults for which there is no sufficient excuse. It is therefore incumbent in the interests of the proprietor, whom the District Officer represents, that his supervision of the collections should be somewhat detailed. But it is equally called for in the interests of the tenantry. It is too much the habit to postpone local inquiry into the arrears on the rent-register of an estate until the total is so formidable as to make that inquiry imperative. The business is then a heavy one: the examination is apt to be loosely made, and the opportunity has often slipped irretrievably by of correcting laxity in the collecting staff. In the case of arrears due from impoverished and struggling tenants, whose circumstances merit generous dealing, they have been subjected possibly for years to the inconsiderate exactions of subordinate officials. If the estates officer every year, in the course of his winter tour, subjects even a few villages of each estate to a thorough examination, he not only informs himself exactly of the methods and characters of his collecting assistants, but can relieve deserving cases, and acquires and maintains the influence which may be so usefully applied to the development of the properties in his care.

5. In a few districts details have been given, showing the classes of tenants from whom arrears are due. The statistics are not complete, but are interesting so far as they go:—

District.	Amount of balance for which details are given.	Ratio of balance in each class to the total.
		Sub-settlement holders.	Other sub-proprietors.	Lessees and mortgagees.	Occupancy-tenants.	Ordinary tenants.
	Rs.
Lucknow ...	8,783	...	1¾	...	1¾	96¼
Bara Banki ...	28,183	1	5	½	...	93½
Hardoi ...	13,814	...	...	1½	...	98½
Kheri ...	2,247	10	...	23	...	67
Fyzabad ...	2,825	50	½	...	...	49½
Gonda ...	13,642	6½	9½	6	...	78
Partábgarh ...	3,661	17	6	...	...	77

Information is wanting in most cases as to the ratio borne by the balance owed by each class to the total demand for that class. In Partábgarh under-proprietors owe 3 per cent. and tenants 4 per cent. of a year's rental, while in Fyzabad the proportion is much larger, being 7 per cent. for the former class and 33 per cent. for the latter. In Kheri the sub-settlement holders have been specially bad payers, and their arrears form a percentage of 11 per cent. on their annual rental, while the percentage owed by tenants-at-will is only 7. The Deputy Commissioner should have explained why he does not make more use of section 158 of the Revenue Act in such cases. In Fyzabad and Partábgarh alone do sub-proprietors constitute a considerable proportion of the defaulters, and in neither district do their arrears amount to a large sum.

6. An abstract is given below of the demands and collections of miscellaneous items of income as shown in appendix II:—

			1883-84.	1882-83.	1881-82.
	Rs.	Rs.
Rent of houses ...	3,159	2,793	88	90	84
Takávi	30,442	20,920	68	59	71
Law expenses	15,099	6,098	40	48	43
Interest	22,966	17,532	76	87	80
Miscellaneous	1,93,360	1,69,988	88	92	93
Total	2,65,026	2,17,331	82	88	87

Though the percentage of collections is less, the results compare not unfavourably with last year's. It was generally felt that, as the season was not a favourable one, too great pressure should not be used to ensure the repayment of takávi advances. Under the circumstances, the collections were not unsatisfactory, except in Lucknow, where, out of a demand of Rs. 1,165, only Rs. 41 were collected. No explanation is offered by the Deputy Commissioner, except that the demand dates from as far back as 1877, that the accounts are in a confused state, and that the amount is practically irrecoverable. Further explanation has been called for by the Commissioner, and in furnishing it, the opportunity should be taken to clear up the accounts and put the demand of the estate against its tenants in this matter on a satisfactory footing. To show on the books demands that are possibly not due, and that cannot be enforced at law, places the tenants too much at the mercy of subordinate officials. The Commissioner in commenting on the failure to recover takávi advances in this estate remarks:—"It is essential to the expansion of the takávi system that repayment should be rigidly enforced, more especially when the advances have been made in a year of ordinary prosperity and have resulted in increased assets to the cultivator." The principle here laid down may be sound, but it needs to be applied with much discrimination. The loans of an estates officer are not by any means on the same footing as the agricultural loans of a Collector to his district zamíndárs. The latter, as a rule, lends to men of substance for the construction of improvements; with the former the most of his transactions are probably loans to tenants who have come to the vergesof ruin by losses of plough-cattle or disaster in the harvests. There cannot, therefore, be, on the whole, the same rigidity of demand, or the same punctuality of repayment, in the case of dealings between an estates manager and his tenants. At the same time, the accumulation of heavy arrears of irrecoverable takávi is undoubtedly proof of want of judgment in making the grants. The advance of money ostensibly in loan, but left to be recovered without any real firmness of demand, is demoralising to the tenantry. When the loans have increased the assets of the tenants, the terms on which they were made seldom need relaxation, and in all cases the exercise of liberality should be based on careful information and systematically conducted.

7. The Itaunja estate is also responsible for Rs. 3,588 out of the total balance of Rs. 5,434 under the head of "interest." The greater part of the balance was collected after the close of the year, and it is not explained why it was not realised at an earlier date.

8. The recoveries of law expenses were as usual poor, and more attention to this branch of the management would not only be well repaid, but is indeed, for the credit of the management, necessary. In Bahraich the demands under this head are shown as having been recovered in full—a most exceptional result; but in Gonda and Lucknow, and to a less extent in other districts, the results are very unsatisfactory. The estates officer of

Rae Bareli, whose supervision is generally of the closest description, admits that sufficient care is not always taken in the first instance to enquire whether the arrears sued for can, if decreed, be collected. A note is promised regarding litigation in Sultánpur, but it has not yet been received.

9. The other items call for little remark. Of the balance shown against Gonda, Rs. 5,000 is said to be on account of debts due from the Paska to the Utraula estate, but no explanation of the cause of non-payment is given.

Appendix III.

10. The balance at the credit of the estates that have a surplus amounted on the 30th September, 1883 to Rs. 4,70,815. The invested sums amount to Rs. 2,93,312. The receipts of the year of all the estates aggregated Rs. 18,50,912, and the expenditure under all heads Rs. 17,89,028. The total balance at the credit of the estates at the end of the year was, therefore, Rs. 5,32,699.

11. Appendix IV contains a detailed statement of expenditure, of which an abstract is given in the table below :—

The land-revenue of the year was paid in full, with the exception of an insignificant sum in Partábgarh, and in several estates the payments were in excess of the demand. The total current revenue of the estates amounted to Rs. 7,49,022, or 45 per cent. of the total rental collections of the year.

The expenses of management have increased as compared with the previous year, but not to any appreciable extent.

12. The ordinary expenses for maintenance of the proprietors varied little from last year's figures, while the amount required for extraordinary expenses, which had been abnormally high in 1882-83, has sunk to its old level. No large grants were made under this head during the year, the most considerable being one of Rs. 5,600 in the Bhira-Gobindpur estate in Rae Bareli, the greater part of which was for marriage expenses.

13. The expenditure on the education of minor proprietors was also on much the same scale as in previous years. Most of the wards who are of an age to attend school are educated at the Government high schools. Two are at Aligarh and three at the Canning College. One ward had to be removed during the year from Aligarh for misconduct, but of the greater number the reports show satisfactory progress in education and general good conduct. Sirdar Baghel Singh, of the Bangaha estate in Bahraich, has shown special inclination to and aptitude for study. This young proprietor, after passing the university entrance examination, has devoted his attention to the study of law, and has given further proof of his interest in education by requesting the provision of a small sum from the funds of the estate to defray the school expenses of four students at Bahraich. The officers in charge of estates have personally interested themselves in the progress of the wards, and of the Commissioners, Mr. McConaghey, of Rae Bareli, bestowed much attention on the numerous wards in his division.

14. A very considerable increase in the expenditure on improvements is the natural result of the attention that has been given to this subject in late years, and of the marked success that has attended the efforts of the officers who were the first to devote their attention to the matter in a systematic manner. As compared with last year, the expenditure under this head in each division is shown below :—

	1882-83.			1883-84.
	Recoverable.	Irrecoverable.	Total.	Recoverable.	Irrecoverable.	Total.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
Lucknow	1,303	3,063	4,363	4,649	11,144	15,793
Sitapur	1,990	3,255	5,245	2,780	5,070	7,850
Fyzabad	1,679	6,756	8,435	2,673	29,134	31,807
Rae Bareli	12,232	8,329	20,561	13,591	12,010	25,601
Total ...	17,204	21,400	38,604	23,693	57,358	81,051

The largest expenditure on improvements naturally takes place in wards' estates with large balances, but even in encumbered estates experience shows that a judicious expenditure very quickly repays itself. But for the extensive improvements effected in Rae Bareli in past years, the collections in the season under review would hardly have reached the figure they did, and in the Partábgarh estates, where wells have been made at the cost of the management, their construction by the proprietor has been followed by an early and remunerative enhancement of rental. In the Lucknow Division, the wards' estate of Itaunja has had more attention paid to its development by the Deputy Commissioner than in previous years; while in Bara Banki the measures of improvement initiated in the previous year were prosecuted on a more extended scale by the Deputy Commissioner, with a result that must have been no less gratifying to him than advantageous to the estates. In the Fyzabad Division the increased expenditure occurs chiefly in the wards' estates in Gonda and Bahraich. In the previous year very little was done in the former district in the way of improvements, but a promising start has now been made.

15. The most obviously useful forms that improvements can take are those that protect estates from the effect of drought, and it is natural, therefore, that attention should have been directed chiefly to the construction of wells, tanks, and embankments. The exact number of wells completed during the year is not in every case stated, but it would seem that not less than 270 masonry wells were sunk on the estates, in addition to which many old wells were repaired and numerous kacha wells were made. The advantages of working through the tenants are now thoroughly appreciated in most districts. The work is more carefully and successfully done ; it is economical to the estate ; it encourages thrift and punctuality among the tenantry, and is the only method by which the irrigating resources of an estate can in practice be rapidly and securely developed. In the Sitapur Division alone little seems to have been effected in this manner.

16. The methods employed to secure the assistance, of the tenants were, as before, various—loans of money, gifts of wood, long leases at existing rents, and other methods of encouragement. In Bara Banki, where the Deputy Commissioner took much personal interest in the matter, the most successful results were produced by money loans supplemented by either a lease for 15 years at the existing rent, or the grant of land for a grove, or the remission of one-third of the loan. In regard to the comparative popularity of these three methods, Colonel Noble says :—" This last concession was the one most in favour both with the talúqdári proprietors and tenants concerned. As a rule, zamíndárs do not desire to see much of their cultivable land given up to groves, and they further do not much relish the idea of 15-year leases. .....The estate, by making a free gift of one-third of the loan, expends really less than it would have to do in paid labour were it to construct the well itself."

In granting takávi to tenants, it is most essential that there should be as few difficulties as possible in the way of obtaining it. If an application for money involves several visits to the sadr station and the expenditure of a large sum in fees to petition-writers and court officials, it is not to be wondered at if the people exhibit some reluctance to come forward. The anxiety of the Bara Banki tenantry to procure grants for wells was due to the facility with which the grants could be obtained. Applications were written out by the court officials or supplied on printed forms, and the preliminaries having been already settled on the spot, the first instalment was paid in the Deputy Commissioner's presence. That the takávi given to his tenantry was expended boná fide for the purpose for which it was asked Colonel Noble is certain. "The supervision of the work in progress was constant and thorough, and where a man was found delaying the work or not using the money as honestly as he ought, the further instalments were stopped and the money that had already been given recovered." He inspected many of the works himself after completion, and writes with animation of the pride and good feeling with which the tenants explained their difficulties and successes. "In all cases the people who built wells, whether from their own resources or by the aid of takávi, were allowed wood fuel gratis to fire their kilns." The present Deputy Commissioner of Bara Banki examined a great many of these wells during the past winter, and in a recent letter confirms the opinion that they have been honestly and soundly built. Colonel Noble merits the approbation of the Government for the hearty and personal interest he took in this part of his work.

There was some doubt as to the nature of the security on which these advances were made to tenants in Bara Banki. Even when excused a third of the takávi advance, considerable sums remained for recovery, and the absence of security has been generally alleged as the obstacle to any system of money loans to tenants. It has been explained that care was taken to select thrifty and intelligent agriculturists; that security was usually given by the hypothecation of a grove or in some other form; but that the well itself is usually sufficient security, and that, with care in selection for loans and in supervision after the advance, there is practically no risk, for the tenant has his harvests assured and neglects no opportunity of reducing the debt on his well. This opinion has support in the generally admirable results in the recovery of other forms of takávi, i.e., loans to tenants for the purchase of seed and cattle.

17. The experience of late years has shown conclusively that, with proper management, the improvements most necessary to secure estates from drought can be effected by the tenantry themselves at but small expense to the estate. There are, however, occasions when, owing to the extent of the undertaking, or the uncertainty of its success, improvements must be carried out by the estate itself, as is exemplified by the interesting account of the experimental well-sinking in the Sultánpur estates by Mr. Wells. Owing to the character of the subsoil in many parts of the district, masonry wells can be sunk only at great expense and in some uncertainty as to their reaching a good supply of water. Mr. Wells, in consultation with an Engineer of the Agricultural Department, made an attempt to introduce tube spring wells, and the experiments were prosecuted with an energy and attention to details that deserve success. They were still in progress when the report was submitted, and the account promised on their completion should now be prepared and forwarded. Of one of the estates in this district Mr. Harington writes:—"Except under assured conditions, the attempt to make costly wells without borings seems to be to throw good money after bad. Borings are being steadily taken as fast as the apprentice can take them, but even then professional advice, or a wide experience, seems wanted to point the way to the most successful application of the knowledge acquired by the borings."

18. Mr. Evans gives an interesting table in his report, showing the extent to which the estates of the Rae Bareli district are now protected against drought. The total number of wells on the estates is 5,729, of which 3,097 are masonry wells and 2,632 kacha. Supposing, as has been hitherto assumed in this district, each well to be capable of irrigating on an average 20 bighas, the total area irrigable from the masonry wells alone would be 61,940 bighas. The area actually irrigated amounts to 86,958 bighas, of which 53,697 are irrigated from wells. About one-half of the cultivated area of the estates in this district is thoroughly protected against drought. The Deputy Commissioner, in reviewing these statistics, gives his opinion that, owing to the fall of the water-level in the district from a continuous series of dry years, an average masonry well in Rae Bareli can no longer stand the strain of irrigating 20 bighas, and, as a matter of fact, the area watered is not so much. On the other hand, in Partábgarh it is said that 22 wells on the Shamspur estate can irrigate 1,026 bighas, and the average area irrigable no doubt varies considerably according to the depth of the water-level and the character of the wells that it is the custom to construct. The abundant rains of last season have again brought the water-level nearer the surface and improved the irrigating power of the old wells.

19. In addition to building wells much was also done in the way of constructing or repairing embankments and tanks. In Partábgarh very judicious expenditure seems to have been incurred on embankments, the value of which in raising the water-level in the wells is considerable. The success of the Behea sugar-mills in Rae Bareli is now established; but more difficulty has been experienced in overcoming the conservatism of the tenants in the matter of new staples. Experiments with these were made in several districts, but the most complete account of the results is to be found in the Rae Bareli and Bara Banki reports. In the latter district, Jaunpuri maize and Mundia wheat were proved to be superior to the local varieties, and are said to have been highly appreciated. Muzaffarnagar wheat, on the other hand, did not satisfy expectation, and the experiments made with Guinea-grass were, on the whole, disappointing. The copious waterings that this grass requires will prevent its ever being generally utilised for fodder. In Rae Bareli, Mr. Evans found that the tenants adopted new staples rather as a matter of favour to the estates officer than from any willingness to abandon the old ones, or any expectation of increasing the value of their produce.

20. The Rae Bareli estates maintained two dispensaries, one of which is said to be a very popular institution. It is intended to erect a dispensary on the Rehwa estate in Bahraich, where the tenants suffer severely from the malarial fever of the Tarái. A good deal was done for their relief during the year in the way of supplying quinine and other medicines. The proposal of Mr. Irwin to induce the tenants of this part of the country to abandon thatched roofs for their huts in favour of tiles, with a view to diminishing the damage caused by fire, has not been successful. Even the offer of tiles at less than cost price has not proved sufficient inducement, and of those whose houses were burned during the year only two persons consented, when rebuilding them, to adopt the new method of roofing. One great difficulty in the way of this scheme is that a tenant who discards thatch is no better off than he was before, unless he can prevail on his neighbours to follow his example. In the event of a whole village being burned down, the estates officer could possibly secure the adoption of tiles throughout on its being rebuilt, and a fair opportunity would thus be afforded of establishing the new roofing's superiority over the old.

21. Amongst other improvements may be mentioned the planting of fig-trees for fodder on a piece of waste land in one of the Sultánpur estates and the formation of plantations and the lining of avenues with trees in Bara Banki. The Deputy Commissioner of Lucknow has very properly taken up the improvement of the roads on the Itaunja estate in connection with the projected Lucknow-Sitapur Railway.

22. In the Bara Banki district the Deputy Commissioner introduced the yearly gatherings of the tenantry which have been found so useful and pleasant an institution in the Fyzabad and Gonda districts. Small presents were distributed to tenants who had distinguished themselves by enterprise in well-building and punctuality with their rents, and to the officials who had done good service. Colonel Noble mentions that a large farmer, but a persistent defaulter, paid up by great exertions the whole of his arrears, in order that he might secure a place of honour in the gathering. In addition to the usual entertainments, the opportunity was taken of showing some improved ploughs, sugarcane-presses, and cane-juice evaporators, which were kept in constant work throughout the meetings, and are said to have excited the keenest interest among the country-people. Pandit Ajudhia Parshad, well known in Sháhjahánpur for his skill and enterprise as a practical agriculturist, attended the first of these gatherings and delivered a very useful address, containing an account of his failures and successes, which was listened to with eager attention. The Deputy Commissioner found in these meetings another advantage, that tenants were ready enough when in a body to explain their needs and wishes. As the Commissioner says, these meetings are well calculated to develope friendly relations between landlords and tenants, and to encourage industrious tenants and subordinate officials who have worked well, and the Lieutenant-Governor trusts with him that the present Deputy Commissioner will continue so successful an institution.

23. Appendix VI contains detailed information regarding the advances of takávi made to the tenantry and the progress made in their repayment. In the previous year, for reasons that were not very fully explained, there was a considerable diminution in the amount of the advances; but in the year under review they have again increased, and sums amounting to Rs. 23,693 were advanced as compared with Rs. 17,204. The increase is most marked in Partábgarh and Bara Banki, and is due to the energy with which well-sinking by the tenants was encouraged in both those districts. In Kheri, Rs. 2,000, as compared with Rs. 1,000 in each of the two previous years, was disbursed. The outstandings that fell due during the year amounted to Rs. 30,457, and the recoveries to Rs. 20,923—a result more satisfactory than that of the previous year. A comparison of the progress made in each district is given below :—

District.	Amount recoverable.	Am ount received.	Percentage.
	Rs.	Rs.
Lucknow	1,165	41	3
Bara Banki	1,246	871	69
Sitapur	42	12	28
Hardoi	1,053	932	88
Kheri	766	654	85
Fyzabad	409	354	86
Bahraich	1,562	815	52
Gonda	159	65	40
Rae Bareli	18,208	11,470	63
Sultánpur	1,734	1,598	92
Partábgarh	4,113	4,112	100
Total ...	30,457	20,923	...

The necessity for further inquiry into the outstandings borne on the books of the Itaunja estate in Lucknow has already been noticed. Several officers in their reports have expressed an opinion that the year was not one in which it would have been judicious to press the tenantry for the repayment of tákavi advances, but some further explanation should have been forthcoming in districts that show such a low percentage of recovery as Sitapur and Gonda. In Partábgarh the instalments were again paid up in full—a result which speaks well for the judgment displayed at the time the loans were granted.

24. Appendix VIIIE exhibits the progress made in paying off debts during the year. Of the properties under the Court of Wards, the Itaunja estate in Lucknow, Bamnawan in Sitapur, Mansurgarh and Marwan in Hardoi, Kasmori in Kheri, Mamrezpur in Fyzabad, Bangaha and Mirabad in Bahraich, Bilaspur in Gonda, Bela-Bhela, Shankarpur, and Badhanpur in Rae Bareli, and Pali, Unchgaon, and Walipur in Sultánpur are free from debt. The debts of the remainder at the commencement of the year aggregated about twelve and a half lakhs, of which about two and a half lakhs were paid off during the year. Taking all the estates, encumbered and court of wards, together, the debts at the commencement of the year stood at twenty lakhs, to which they had been reduced from thirty-five lakhs during the period of management. The interest due at the commencement of, or accruing during the year, amounted to Rs. 1,13,000, and the total payments in liquidation of principal and interest were as follows :—

	Rs.
Principal	4,34,510
Interest	95,690
Total ...	5,30,200

In 1882-83 the sum paid was Rs. 5,64,410, and in 1881-82 it was Rs. 5,22,260. The demands on account of interest were fully paid up in most districts, but in Bara Banki, Sitapur, and Rae Bareli there were considerable sums left unpaid. In Bara Banki it is said that the amount shown in balance did not fall due for payment till after the close of the agricultural year, and it is therefore not very clear why it should have been entered in the demands. In Rae Bareli the balances are due to a misunderstanding of the rules of the Account Department, which will not occur again; and in Sitapur no explanation is given. Of the total amount shown above as paid in liquidation of debt, a sum of Rs. 55,500 in Bara Banki was paid up by the talúqdár of the Rámnagar estate, who raised a loan to free his estate from management. A sum of Rs. 16,500 in Bajehra in Sitapur was also paid off by raising a loan, and a sum of Rs. 64,000 in the Rae Bareli estate of Pandri Ganeshpur was paid up by a mortgagor, as explained in the appendix. The total payments on account of debt made from the ordinary funds of the estates amounted only to Rs. 2,60,000. In the Bara Banki estates the payments were considerably less than in the preceding year—a result to which the increased expenditure on improvements contributed in some small share.

25. The debts on the encumbered estates of Rámnagar, Dhundpur, and Jamu were completely cleared off during the year and the estates released. In the case of Rámnagar the estate came under management in 1872, encumbered with debts which were said to amount to Rs. 50,000. The gross assets were represented at Rs. 23,000 per annum, and it was anticipated that the debt would be cleared off in six years. It was discovered, however, after the assumption of management, that the debts had been largely under-estimated, while the assets had been exaggerated. The debts in reality came to Rs. 76,000. A composition was eventually effected with the creditors and a Government loan of Rs. 60,000 was advanced, with which they were paid off in 1876. Since then a succession of bad seasons has so crippled the estate, that it has hardly been able to pay its way. The estate has very seriously deteriorated in consequence, and required extensive and methodical measures for its recovery. These the Deputy Commissioner had made arrangements to initiate, but the talúqdár, impatient at the slow progress made in paying his debts, paid up the balance of the Government loan in the year under review, Rs. 55,000, and resumed the management. It can only be hoped that the talúqdár will himself show the courage and thrift, which are essential to the extrication of this estate from imminent danger of bankruptcy.

26. The Dhundpur estate is a small property in the Hardoi district. It was taken under management in 1870, when the debts amounted to Rs. 18,280, or about twice the average rental of the estate. These were compromised on a loan from Government of Rs. 17,000. At the beginning of the past year the debts were over Rs. 2,000. The whole have now been paid off, and the estate made over to the talúqdár, who has promised to draw up a budget yearly and show it to the Deputy Commissioner, and of whose future management there are good hopes. The rent-roll, when the property was brought under management, was Rs. 6,900. In this was included a large area of sír-lands held free of rent, and the occupancies of relatives of the talúqdár farmed at a quit-rent. The rent-roll, when corrected, stood in 1876 at Rs. 7,790, and the cultivated area of the estate was 2,364 acres. The cultivated area is now 2,646 acres, and the rent-roll Rs. 8,276. Six wells have been sunk at the expense of the management, a hamlet built on the property, and a number of new tenants added to the estate. The old tenants have been treated with consideration, and the Deputy Commissioner reports them to be throughout the estate in good condition.

27. The Jamu estate in Sultánpur when taken under management in 1870 was burdened with a debt of Rs. 59,000. The progress in liquidation was at first slow, but has lately been rapid, and the debt of Rs. 9,000 which was due at the beginning of the year was paid off and the estate released in August last. The rental, which in 1875 was Rs. 29,143, is now Rs. 31,019; and a great deal has been done for the improvement of the property. A water-course, a mile long, made from the Masiawan Tál, has proved of great benefit to the property, and the tenantry have been encouraged in making wells. During the last two years alone the number of wells they have built has been 31, and the Deputy Commissioner before release was careful to make arrangements to protect these improving tenants as far as possible from vexatious interference hereafter.

28. The only Court of Wards' estates released during the year were those of Bansi in Kheri and Bela-Bhela in Rae Bareli. For the former estate, as already noticed, no statistics have been furnished. It was taken under management in 1876, in the interest of two boys, with a debt of Rs. 5,600 and a rental of Rs. 8,233. This debt was entirely cleared off during the period of management and the estate was made over on the eldest coming of age in February, 1885, with a rental of Rs. 9,178 and a small credit balance in hand. Both boys had attended the Lakhimpur High School and appear to have been well educated. Bela is a flourishing property in the Rae Bareli district. It was free from debt when it came under the Court of Wards, and during the ward's minority its rental has been considerably increased by the purchase of additions to the estate at any convenient opportunity. In 1876, when it came under the Deputy Commissioner's management, the income from land was Rs. 21,000; when made over to the young Sirdár the rental was through these purchases Rs. 31,000. Here too, more especially in the last three years, much has been done for the development of the estate and the investment of capital by the tenants, and the Sirdár on coming of age, with an education and training which are most creditable to his guardians, received an enlarged estate with a prosperous tenantry, contented and punctual in their rent-payments.

29. The number of notices of ejectment issued rose from 534 to 606. The increase was most noticeable in Hardoi and Rae Bareli, where 145 and 131 notices respectively were issued. In Hardoi no notices had been issued during the previous year, and the Deputy Commissioner appears to have been obliged to resort to this method of dealing with defaulting tenants. Colonel Newbery has not explained very fully the precautions taken to ascertain that the tenants served with notices deserved to be evicted, but it appears from the remarks of the Commissioner that due care was in each case taken :—"The issue of notices of ejectment on tenants was carefully controlled by Deputy Commissioners, and I am satisfied that the power was exercised with discretion and moderation." The number of notices in Rae Bareli, 131 in all, though greater than in the previous year, was small when the very large number of tenants on the estates in that district is taken into consideration. In Bara Banki, where 143 notices were issued, the Deputy Commissioner personally examined the circumstances of each case and took action either on account of persistent default or in order to provide for tenants belonging to the village at the expense of outsiders. On the whole, this branch of the management seems to have everywhere met with the attention it requires.

30. The statements showing the litigation in which the estates were involved have, as usual, not been printed, but an account of the results is given below. There has been some decrease in the number of suits, but there has been little difference in value.

31. The estates were concerned altogether in 172 cases as compared with 203 in the previous year. In 1882-83 the estates were plaintiffs in 112 cases of a value of Rs. 99,042, and in 1883-84 in 113 suits of a value of Rs. 1,04,516. Of these suits 88 were decided during the year, of which the estates were successful in 80, or nearly 91 per cent. of the whole. In 1881-82 the percentage of success was 84, in 1882-83 it rose to 89, and the still higher percentage in 1883-84 is satisfactory. The most important suits in which litigation was undertaken by the estates were two, in which the Pandri Ganeshpur estate in Rae Bareli was concerned. One was an appeal to the Privy Council in a case brought against Rája Rámpal Singh for possession of 31 villages as mortgagee. Both cases have, it is understood, been decided since the close of the year in favour of the estate.

32. The estates were concerned as defendants in only 59 cases as compared with 91 last year. The value of these suits was Rs. 2,58,194 as compared with Rs. 2,79,326. Forty cases were decided during the year, and the decisions in 30, or 75 per cent., were in favour of the estates. The high value of the suits is owing principally to the three cases mentioned in last year's review. One of these, in which the estate was not in a position to offer any defence, has been decided against it, another was given partly in favour of the estate and partly against it, and in the third the estate was successful. The percentage of successful cases under this head is lower than in the last two years, when it was 76. By carefully considering all claims made before declining to accede to them, endeavour should be made to improve the ratio of success.

33. There were 26 appeal cases for disposal during the year, 16 of which were decided. In 11 cases the decision was in favour of the estate and in five cases against it. This is not very satisfactory. Of five special appeals only two were decided, one in favour of and one against the estates.

34. The greater number of the suits in which estates were involved during the year were classified as suits to recover money or property due under a contract, or suits for a declaration of right in or for recovery of possession of real property. Of cases in which the estates were plaintiffs 104 come under these heads, and of cases in which they were defendants 51.

35. The statement exhibiting the recoveries of sums decreed in favour of the estates shows the same unsatisfactory result as in previous year, and leads to the same conclusions as to the unprofitableness of litigation from a merely money point of view :—

Particulars.	Due.	Recovered.	Remitted.	Balance.

49·28	,,	,,	reported recoverable.
4·23	,,	,,	returned as irrecoverable.
20·36	,,	,,	returned as doubtful.

Last year the recoveries amounted to 24 per cent. of the demands, and in the year before to 23 per cent. The low figure of 1883-84 is not only unsatisfactory in itself, but exhibits a distinct falling off from the standard attained in previous years. The subject has already received notice in an earlier paragraph, and it is to be hoped that more attention will in future be devoted to this part of the estates' business.

36. A comparison of the recoveries in the various districts brings to light the same striking difference of results that has on previous occasions been noticed :—

	Rs.
Lucknow	143	36·
Bara Banki	2,411	3·
Sitapur	225	43·
Hardoi	378	17·

Gonda	568	6·
Rae Bareli	4,418	37·
Sultánpur	2,966	43·
Partábgarh	2,688	26·

Only two districts have recovered more than 50 per cent. of the decreed claims and costs, and of the failures in Bara Banki and Gonda no adequate explanation is given.

37. Looking over the general records of the year's administration, the Lieutenant-Governor and Chief Commissioner has much pleasure in again expressing his appreciation of the excellent management of the Oudh estates. The reports that have been submitted bear evidence to the great personal interest taken by the officers in charge in the properties and the wards under their care. Collections have been carefully and considerately superintended; management has been economical; good progress has been made in the liquidation of debt. Much has been done for the permanent improvement of the estates, and the success of the measures taken for their protection against drought is gratifying. The extent to which in many districts the tenants are being taught and encouraged to help themselves is one of the most satisfactory features of the work in these estates. Colonel Noble, Major Grigg, Mr. Wells, and Mr. Evans may be specially mentioned among the officers whose energy and exertions have given much value to their management of the estates, and who have set the Oudh landlords fair example of prudent yet generous administration.

38. The statistics showing the position of the various charitable trusts are contained in appendices IX—XII. The trusts are the same as have been shown in previous years with the addition of the Bahraich poorhouse, which was omitted by a misunderstanding from previous statements. The balance in hand of all the trusts at the commencement of the year amounted to Rs. 20,212, the receipts were Rs. 76,038, the expenditure Rs. 78,047, and the balance at the close of the year, Rs. 18,203.

39. Seven of the ten trusts are in the city of Lucknow, and very full reports on their management during the year have been submitted. The administration of the King's Poorhouse and of the new Charity Fund have been left almost entirely in the hands of native gentlemen, and the Lieutenant-Governor and Chief Commissioner has read with much pleasure the high encomium passed by the Commissioner on the way in which they have discharged the duties of the post. The work done by Mirza Agha Ali Khan Bahádur and Munshi Fazal Hussain Khan merits more especially the acknowledgments of the Government.

40. The King's English and Unani hospitals are chiefly supported by an endowment of three and a half lakhs made by the king Nasir-ud-din Haidar. The year was a healthy one, and there were not so many patients as in that preceding. The Unani hospital increases in popularity. The average daily attendance at the English hospital was 155 in 1882-83, 104 in 1883-84: at the Unani hospital 187 in the former year, 196 in the latter. The causes of this preference are not gone into in the reports, and deserve inquiry and attention from the committees of management and the medical authorities. Both these institutions show a yearly and considerable surplus, and the committees should consider the propriety of improving and extending the operations, which are the objects of this excellent endowment.

41. The Balrámpur Hospital, maintained partly by the interest on the late Mahárája's endowment, partly by a contribution from Government, shows with other medical institutions a decrease in the number of ordinary patients, but an increase in the number of surgical operations. It has been hitherto managed by a committee of European officials, but the question of its future control and supervision is now before Government. The hospital has been very favourably noticed by the Inspector-General in a recent report. It has been spending the whole of its income, and it does not appear on the papers what reserve is made for the repairs that may become necessary.

42. The King's Poorhouse is also dependent on an endowment by Sháh Nasir-ud-din Haidar. An income of nearly Rs. 14,000 is very economically managed by a native committee. Food was daily distributed in the poorhouse to an average of 250 poor people, and out-door charity was given besides, on the advice and selection of the committee, to 200 pardanishin women and infirm persons at an average of Rs. 2 per mensem. The expenditure was nevertheless largely within the income.

43. The new Charity Fund, the last of the great benevolent institutions of Lucknow, supplements the King's Poorhouse in assisting respectable families that have been reduced to extreme poverty. The income is large, Rs. 26,000 per annum, but has now become almost entirely dependent on the interest of the surplus set aside for the purpose from the funds raised for relief in the Orissa famine and for a Mayo Memorial. The private subscriptions were at one time large, and the committee are now reported to have taken measures for reviving them. About 1,500 persons, including 130 Abyssinian slaves, get assistance from this fund, in the form of monthly stipends; and to secure more public support, the committee have to show that this selection of the recipients of relief has been made with good judgment.

44. It appears from these notices that one hospital and one poorhouse are largely subsidised by Government, while another hospital and poorhouse have a large surplus. It will be considered, in the Financial Department of this Government, whether some more economical adjustment of the general income could not be with advantage arranged.

45. Of the management of the trusts in the other districts no separate reports have been received. None of them are large, except that of the shrine of Saiyad Salar in Bahraich. This is directed entirely by a native committee. With an income of Rs. 11,000 they have made much extension and improvement of the buildings of the Dargah, as the Lieutenant-Governor observed with satisfaction at his late visit to the town. In his next report the Deputy Commissioner should give some description of what has been done by the committee. The bare figures of a financial abstract give little information. The dispensary founded by the Rája of Bhinga continues to render most useful service in the marshy and feverish tract of country in which his liberality placed it.

46. The statement of educational endowments calls for no special remarks.

By order, &c.,

J. WOODBURN,

Secy. to Govt., N.-W. P. and Oudh, in the Oudh Revenue Dept.

The 30*th June*, 1885.

APPENDIX A.

Lucknow District.—Officer in charge, Lieutenant-Colonel Hastings, Deputy Commissioner.

No. 1, Itaunja (Court of Wards). Normal income, Rs. 77,700; credit balance on 30*th September,* 1884, Rs. 1,22,000.

The rental demand shows a slight increase, owing mainly to extended cultivation. The collections of the rents for the year were good, but the collections on account of arrears, notwithstanding the large amount written off in the previous year as irrecoverable, were poor. It may be hoped that considerable progress will be made in the present year in collecting such of the arrears as are recoverable.

The recoveries in miscellaneous items of income were also poor, more especially the collections of takávi advances. A large portion of these advances was remitted last year, but the uncollected arrears are still heavy, and due precautions do not appear to have been taken when the advances were made. They are reported to date back for the most part as far as the year 1877, but a detailed account has been called for as to the years in which the advances were given, the purposes for which they were given, and the reasons for their not having been repaid.

The work of improving the property was energetically carried on. Eight masonry wells were finished, two others were half finished, and a number were repaired. In addition to this tenants were encouraged to sink wells by takávi advances and a free supply of wood for their kilns, and 17 wells were thus built. These have been all inspected by the Deputy Commissioner. The property is said to be now fairly ensured against drought. Notices of ejectment were sparingly issued, and the tenants proceeded against were all habitual defaulters.

The Court was successful in two civil suits in which it was concerned. Rs. 23,000 were invested in Government paper during the year, and the total investments now amount to Rs. 1,09,000. The estate, at the close of the year, had a cash balance of Rs. 13,430. The ward is still a student of the Canning College, and is said to be making satisfactory progress. He will attain his majority on the 25th November, 1885.

Bara Banki District.—Officer in charge, Major Noble, Deputy Commissioner.

No. 2, Jasmandi (Encumbered Estate). Normal income, Rs. 15,000 ; deficit on 30*th September,* 1884, Rs. 6,600.

Rs. 3,900 were paid during the year towards the liquidation of the debt of this estate, which now stands at Rs. 6,600. This amount should be paid off easily in two years. The rent collections were better than in the previous year and were excellent. More attention than before was given to improvements. Four new wells were constructed by the management and an old one repaired. One half-finished well, the construction of which had been abandoned for the last five or six years, was most successfully completed, and a fine old well restored to usefulness by the sinking of an inner cylinder. A tract, which was very sandy and wholly unprotected from drought, has now been brought under irrigation, and a considerable increase in the number of tenants is expected. The expenditure on rent-suits was scarcely justified by the complete failure in recoveries on decrees already obtained.

No. 3, Pokhra Ansari (Encumbered Estate). Normal income Rs. 58,800 ; deficit on 30*th September,* 1884, Rs. 39,000.

The large debt of Rs. 1,38,546 with which this estate came under management has now been reduced to Rs. 39,000, and the Deputy Commissioner hopes that the debt may be completely cleared in three years. The collections during the year were excellent, but the arrears of past years are still heavy. The Deputy Commissioner has promised to submit proposals for striking off the irrecoverable items after his cold-weather inspection of the estate. The number of notices of ejectment issued was very considerable, but Colonel Noble explains that in no case was notice issued without his personal examination and order, and that his action was taken either against persistent defaulters or to increase the holdings of resident tenants. In only one case was objection taken and the notice was cancelled. Considerable energy was displayed in the prosecution of works of improvement. Two pakka wells were constructed by the management and a third has been commenced. The tenants usually with the aid of takávi advances, but in some instances at their own cost, built 31 wells. In the latter cases the tenants were given 15 years' leases of their holdings. Two hundred and seventy-eight trees were planted on the roadsides and fuel plantations were sown and conserved. Experiments were tried with maize, sugarcane, and varieties of wheat; also with two ploughs which were bought from the Agricultural Department. A dilapidated bazaar was repaired and a cattle-market established there which promises to be a great local convenience. Much care was bestowed on all the details of management.

No. 4, Ramnagar (Encumbered Estate). Normal income, Rs. 16,200; deficit at date of release, Rs. 55,500.

An account of the circumstances under which the debt on this estate was paid off and the estate restored to the management of the owner is given in the body of the report.

No. 5, Akhyapur (Encumbered Estate). Normal income, Rs. 4,800; deficit on 30*th September*, 1884, Rs. 8,100.

This estate has been under management since 1871, but only one-third of the original debt has yet been paid off. During the past year Rs. 530 were spent on much-needed improvements, and a sum of Rs. 400 only was available for payment of debt. As the Deputy Commissioner points out, it will be necessary, in future, to restrict expenditure on improvements and devote all the surplus available to liquidation of debt; but the tenantry have already begun to come forward. They built four new wells during the year, and with encouragement much may yet be done without any considerable outlay by the estate. It is singular that notwithstanding this encouragement, and the particular attention which the Deputy Commissioner gave to this property, settling 16 new tenants and assisting the old, the rent-roll should still show a tendency to decrease and cash rents to retreat into grain-rents. The Deputy Commissioner must continue to give special attention to this, the most embarrassed estate now in his charge. Here, too, rent-suits seem to have been brought without that careful consideration which distinguished every other part of the Deputy Commissioner's management. On the decrees nothing was realised, because the debtors were in poor circumstances. There is no use in going to the expense of a suit, if the decree cannot be executed on account of the poverty of the debtor. The talúqdár himself is reported to be obstructive, but his nephew gave useful help in the building of the well sunk by the estate.

No 6, Kharka (Courts of Wards). Normal income, Rs. 24,500; deficit on 30*th September*, 1884, Rs. 47,000.

The rent collections were good, as were those of miscellaneous items of revenue. Thirty notices of ejectment were issued, with the object apparently, as a rule, of substituting chapparband tenants for pahikashts. None of the notices were contested. One well was constructed by a tenant, and two others are being built by the management. A few trees were planted during the year and arrangements have been made to continue this work. A settlement of about 31 new tenants was also effected; but, as in Akhyapur it is not understood how, there was nevertheless a diminution in the rental. The estate was heavily embarrassed when it came under management, but the debts have been consolidated by loans at a low rate of interest. The principal of the debt was reduced only by a sum of Rs. 1,000, but there was a balance of Rs. 5,808 at the end of the year which should have been utilised in the reduction of debt, and the omission to apply it should have been explained.

The Deputy Commissioner's proposal to lend money to Bhilwal from the savings is not very clear, but is probably connected in some way with the unexplained balance at his credit at the close of the year.

No. 7, Bhilwal-Khanpur (Court of Wards). Normal income, Rs. 66,000; deficit on 30*th September*, 1884, Rs. 1,60,000.

This large estate, which is heavily in debt, has now been two years under the Court of Wards. Considerable progress was made during the year in paying off the debt, the principal being reduced by Rs. 9,000, in addition to which large payments were made on account of interest. One mahál of the estate lies in the Rae Bareli district, but the whole is managed from Bara Banki. The rental collections were not quite as good as last year, but were not unsatisfactory. Better results may be anticipated in the present year.

The rental was increased by Rs. 215 by the issue of 23 notices of ejectment. It is presumed that the Deputy Commissioner satisfied himself of the propriety of enhancing the rent in each case. The attention given to promoting the welfare both of the estate and its tenants was very marked. Advances were given for the purchase of cattle and for the construction of wells. The estate itself constructed three masonry wells and two embankments, while 15 masonry wells were completed by the tenants, and an area of nearly 300 acres has been ensured against drought. New tenants have been settled on the estate, and the results of the year generally are highly creditable to the management. In this as in other estates Colonel Noble did much to encourage tree-planting and the prosecution of various agricultural experiments.

No. 8, Togapur Yakutganj (Court of Wards). Normal income, Rs. 5,200; deficit on 30*th September*, 1884, Rs. 50,030.

This estate continues in lease. The income of the year was Rs. 5,218, out of which, after payment of land-revenue and other charges, a sum of Rs. 2,100 was available for the reduction of the debt, which now stands at

Rs. 50,000. Its liquidation must necessarily be a slow process. The estate belongs to the heirs of Diwan Kishan Kunwar of the Panjáb, and the loan made by the Government of India for the settlement of the debts bequeathed to them by the Diwan was considerably in excess of the ordinary market value of the property.

Sitapur district.—Officer in charge, Mr. Redfern, Assistant Commissioner.

No. 9, Bamnawan (Court of Wards). Normal rental, Rs. 6,400; credit balance on 30*th September*, 1884, Rs. 15,150.

The rental of this estate was again somewhat smaller than in the preceding year, and the diminution is passed over with the remark that, "owing to the lack of water, both rental and collections fell off." Including realisations on account of arrears, however, the rental collections were somewhat better than those of the previous year, and, as the seasons were unfavourable, this result must be looked on as fairly satisfactory. The Deputy Commissioner should have explained his omission to realise more than Rs. 700 of the Rs. 1,362 due to the estate as interest on its investments.

The officer in charge did not succeed, as was anticipated last year, in finding a suitable investment in immoveable property for the uninvested savings, and the greater part was spent in the purchase of promissory notes. The estate will shortly be released on the ward's attaining his majority. He has been allowed lately to have a voice in the management of the property, an occupation in which it is said that he displays considerable interest. But little was done during the year in the way of improvements, though the estate seems to be one much in need of them, and ample funds were available.

The rent balances on this estate are very heavy, nearly half of a year's rent. The Deputy Commissioner gives no explanation, and it would have been very desirable that details should have been considered with the young Thakur and irrecoverable items expunged.

No. 10, Bajhera (Court of Wards). Normal income, Rs. 10,755 ; deficit on 30*th September*, 1884, Rs. 14,500.

The current rental was realised practically in full. The greater part of the estate is leased, and the lessees are punctual payers. Two villages belonging to the estate that were held in usufructuary mortgage were redeemed, a loan being taken from an estate in Bahraich for the purpose. An increase to the rental of Rs. 2,000 per annum is anticipated from this arrangement, and the balance of the debt should, therefore, be rapidly cleared off. A well was built and some others repaired, and it is hoped that this beginning of good things will be continued. There appears to be some mistake in the accounts of this estate as given in appendix VII. According to last year's statement the debt at the close of 1882-83 was Rs. 18,626, while the present statement shows the debt at the commencement of 1883-84, exclusive of the amount of Rs. 16,500 borrowed from Bahraich, as Rs. 21,110. Some confusion of principal and interest appears to have occurred, and should be explained.

The talúqdár continues insane, and his elder sons show no capacity for business. The Deputy Commissioner does not say what is being done for their education and training.

No. 11, Deokalia, nine-anna share (Court of Wards). Normal income, Rs. 10,300 ; deficit on 30*th September*, 1884, Rs. 41,600.

The rental has again diminished, owing, it is said, to the bad harvest, and the collections were not very satisfactory. The account given of the management of the estate is meagre, and is principally taken up with the question of the insufficiency of the subordinate collecting establishment. This question should be looked into at once. If the failure to collect the rents (over Rs. 1,000 less than last year were collected) is due, as alleged, to the weakness of the staff, it is mistaken economy not to increase it. This estate requires the very careful attention of the Deputy Commissioner and Commissioner. It is very seriously indebted. The rental during the last two years has decreased by Rs. 700; the rent-balances have grown into a very heavy total; and beyond a small sum towards the building of a new well, nothing whatever has yet been done for the development of the property. The example which has been given in every other division must not be wholly neglected in Sitapur.

The Deputy Commissioner seems to be in error in saying that the debts have been brought below Rs. 40,000. According to the returns, they stood at Rs. 41,650 at the end of the year, and the report should not have left it unexplained why so large a sum as Rs. 1,786 of interest remained unpaid.

No. 12, Deokalia, seven-anna share (Court of Wards). Normal income, Rs. 6,000; deficit on 30*th September,* 1884, Rs. 39,800.

In this estate, also, we find a diminished rental and collections below the average. A series of dry seasons appear to have crippled the Sitapur estates to an extent that would have been impossible had the tenants been encouraged in previous years to provide artificial means of irrigation. Arrangements have now been made for sinking one well, but nothing has been done to induce the tenants to take action on their own behalf. The same remarks apply as to the sister estate. Nothing was paid towards principal, and yet a sum of nearly Rs. 1,000 was in hand at the expiry of the year, which should certainly have been applied in reduction of debt. All the figures indicate that much closer attention is needed to the details of management in this district.

District Hardoi.—Officer in charge, Colonel Newbery, Deputy Commissioner.

No. 13, Sarwan Baragaon (Encumbered Estate). Normal income, Rs. 44,500; deficit on 30*th September*, 1884, Rs. 85,900.

The Deputy Commissioner's report on this estate, as on others, is a mere resumé of the figures, and does not do justice to his management, which has throughout been most successful. The collections under all heads were admirable, and a considerable reduction in the amount of debt was effected. But for the marriage of the talúqdár's daughter the reduction would have been greater, and the Deputy Commissioner now anticipates that the estate will be cleared in seven years. The sum of Rs. 295 was spent on takávi, but throughout this large property nothing else seems to have been done for its improvement. The District Officer has not yet caught the art of inducing his tenants to make improvements.

No. 14, Asifpur (Encumbered Estate). Normal income, Rs. 22,600; deficit on 30*th September*, 1884, Rs. 9,700.

This estate was allowed to get out of hand by a previous manager, who has been dismissed. His successor is placing matters on a better footing, and the results of improved management are obvious. The collections were good, and would have been much better but for the absconding of a patwári with collections to a large amount. This could hardly have happened had not the management been originally very lax. The talúqdár obstructs the management, and the remainder of the original debt is now so small that the Deputy Commissioner might well suggest to him his paying it off and recovering the possession and management of his estate. He appears to have run up fresh debts, and his permanent extrication seems to be hopeless. In this estate, as in others in Hardoi, notices of ejectment were issued more than in the previous year. The Commissioner (see paragraph 28 of the report) was satisfied that they were issued with discretion, and it may doubtless have been necessary to take severe measures with defaulting tenants in estates in which the management had previously not been firm; but it is remarked that in nine cases out of the 24 in Asifpur the notices were disallowed, though the Deputy Commissioner expected to have the notices upheld in appeal.

The improvements were limited to a single well at a cost of Rs. 177.

No. 15, Dhundpur (Encumbered Estate). Normal income, Rs. 8,300.

This estate was brought under management in 1870 with a debt of Rs. 17,000, which has now been cleared off and the estate released. A note upon the management of this property will be found in the body of the review.

No. 16, Durgaganj (Encumbered Estate). Normal income, Rs. 7,100 ; deficit on 30*th September*, 1884, Rs. 11,900.

This is another estate that has suffered in the past from lax management and insufficient supervision. A great improvement has been effected during the past year; the collections were good, and substantial reduction of debt was effected. The bulk of the arrears due is owed by the talúqdár himself, who was allowed by the late manager to hold lands in the names of fictitious tenants.

Nothing whatever seems to have been done in the matter of improvements, although for two years it has been impressed on the Deputy Commissioner that, although the estate could afford little direct expenditure, there was no reason why the tenantry should not be encouraged to undertakings which will tend to the security of harvests and rents as well as to the benefit of the tenants themselves.

No. 17, Baghiári (Encumbered Estate). Normal income, Rs. 10,500 ; deficit on 30*th September*, 1884, Rs. 15,700.

The collections were, on the whole, very good. The recoveries of arrear rents were especially creditable. The outstanding rents, however, are still much larger than they should be, and the details should be carefully examined. In his account of the management the Deputy Commissioner puts the debts at Rs. 12,400, which, it appears from the statement, is the sum due to the Government. Besides this there is a sum due to private creditors of Rs. 3,307. The total payments towards the principal of the joint debt came to Rs. 4,100, and the Deputy Commissioner hopes the property may be clear in three years. He should consider whether the talúqdár can now raise the balance and resume the management of his estate.

One well has been sunk at a cost of Rs. 166; nothing else done for improvement.

No. 18, Mansurgarh (Court of Wards). Normal income, Rs. 11,700; credit balance on 30*th September*, 1884, Rs. 9,500.

The collections were excellent and the management seems to have been careful throughout, though it has again to be regretted that it was found necessary to resort to ejectment notices to maintain punctuality of payment. The personal interest taken by the Deputy Commissioner in the progress of the ward cannot fail to have a good effect. His marriage took place during the year. Three wells were built at a cost of Rs. 572. The uninvested balance was large: if no other investment is convenient, the money should be put into promissory notes.

No. 19, Marwan (Court of Wards). Normal income, Rs. 14,500; credit balance on 30*th September*, 1884, Rs. 12,600.

The estate continues to be well managed; but here, too, the comparatively large number of notices of ejectment issued attracts attention. Rs. 800 were spent on wells and part of the surplus funds was invested in landed property. The ward has not hitherto made much progress with his education, and the Deputy Commissioner has done rightly in taking him into Hardoi, to be taught at the High School.

Kheri District.—Officer in charge, Mr. Gibson, Deputy Commissioner.

No. 20, Bahadurnagar (Encumbered Estate). Normal income, Rs. 53,500 ; deficit on 30*th September*, 1884, Rs. 19,000.

The arrears in this estate are exceptionally heavy, and little impression is being made on them. The Deputy Commissioner proposes to have them carefully examined and to ascertain what proportion is really irrecoverable. It is not explained why decrees were taken out against sub-settlement-holders instead of action under section 158 of the Land Revenue Act. In the review of last year, the Deputy Commissioner was specially desired to have the causes and character of the rent balances on this estate very thoroughly sifted, and this examination it is hoped will not be again deferred. Takávi for purchase of cattle was freely given during the year; a few wells were sunk chiefly at the cost of the estate, but in two cases by tenants; and in other respects attention was given to the details of management. Two more Behea mills were purchased to be hired out to the tenants, an assistance which appears to be much appreciated; groves were planted; nearly 900 acres of new land were brought under the plough, and 74 cultivators were added to the estate. In these respects the management was excellent; but the details of collection and balance require much more steady and sustained attention than they have received. The miscellaneous outstandings contain, the Deputy Commissioner admits, such petty items that they ought either to have been collected or struck out. These should have been the subject of his orders during the year and not at the end of it. Considerable progress was made in the payment of debt, which, but for the expense incurred on the marriage ceremony of the ward, would have been almost cleared off by this time. The ward had to be removed from the Aligarh College for misconduct, and has how been placed under the charge of his father-in-law, the Rája of Nánpára.

No. 21, Kasmori (Court of Wards). Normal income, Rs. 5,300; credit balance on 30*th September*, 1884, Rs. 3,000.

The revenue of this small estate was practically collected in full. It belongs to two ladies, whose heir, a minor, attends the Lakhimpur High School, but will apparently in the current year come of age. Irrigation wells are not needed, for water lies close to the surface; and no expenditure has been incurred for improvements; but during the last eight years the rent-roll has grown from Rs. 3,208 to Rs. 5,340, and the ward will receive a flourishing property. The whole of the credit balance is invested in a loan; the purchase of a co-parcener's share which was proposed last year seems to have fallen through.

Fyzabad District.—Officer in charge, Major Barrow, Assistant Commissioner.

No. 22, Khapradíh (Encumbered Estate). Normal income, Rs. 76,400; deficit on 30*th September*, 1884, Rs. 10,000.

Satisfactory progress continues to be made, and the debts were reduced during the year from Rs. 20,000 to Rs. 10,000. They should be entirely paid off by the close of the present year.

The rental shows an increase over that of the previous year of Rs. 339, and the collections on account of it were creditable to the management in both the Fyzabad and Sultánpur districts. Including arrears, the total collections somewhat exceeded the gross annual rental—a result that in this estate is very satisfactory. In this estate by far the larger portion of the area is in the occupation of tenants with under-proprietary or heritable rights of occupancy. In the part of it situate in the Sultánpur district the proportion is as high as three-fourths; in Fyzabad it is three-fifths; and both Deputy Commissioners notice the greater punctuality of these right-holders as compared with tenants-at-will. The collections under the head of miscellaneous income were most commendable. The managers of this estate have for several years shown special encouragement to improvements. Well-making is a matter of difficulty, more especially in the Sultánpur portion, where the old water-level is said to have sunk below a deep stratum of shifting sand. One well, commenced by the estates officer in Sultánpur, collapsed when nearly finished. The wells built by the tenantry, however, seem to be more carefully and soundly constructed. Twenty-three were either finished during the year or under construction. The assistance given to the builders varied according to circumstances; the building seems to have been uniformly successful. An apprentice has been lent to the estate by the Agricultural Department, and the borings made under his supervision are expected to give much help in the future conduct of these operations. Twenty-three notices of ejectment were issued in Fyzabad: of these 15 were contested, but in only one case was the objection allowed. In Sultánpur it was not found necessary to issue any notices. As usual, an annual darbár of the tenantry was held and rewards were distributed to the well-sinkers and punctual rent-payers as well as to estates officials who had done good work. As in other estates in the Fyzabad district under direct management, the officer in charge devoted some personal attention to the encouragement of vaccination.

The Deputy Commissioner of Fyzabad, who has charge of the young talúqdár and has taken much personal interest in his education, gives a gratifying account of his ward. The property is now in a very prosperous condition.

No. 23, Mamrezpur (Court of Wards). Normal income, Rs. 3,734; credit balance on 30*th September*, 1884, Rs. 41.

This estate is owned by Bhagwándín and his two nephews, who are all minors. It was brought into the Court of Wards during the year on the recommendation of the Deputy Commissioner to protect the interests of the minors, and it is intended to partition their share from that of Bhagwándín, who will shortly attain his majority.

The greater part of the rent of the year had been collected before the management took over charge; and of the balance only Rs. 20 remained uncollected at the end of the year.

Bahraich District.—Officer in charge, Mr. H. C. Irwin, Assistant Commissioner.

No. 24, Rhewa (Court of Wards). Normal income, Rs. 75,000; credit balance on 30*th September,* 1884, Rs. 36,800.

The harvests, especially the rabi, in this estate are said to have suffered much from want of rain and to have been very poor. The collections were nevertheless good, Rs. 72,600 out of a demand of Rs. 75,000 being collected. The rental demand has fallen, for reasons that are not fully explained, from Rs. 76,000 to Rs. 75,000; but in an estate which has a considerable area in grain-rent, the rental demand fluctuates with the seasons.

The estate having now a large balance at its credit, it has been possible to undertake works of improvement on an extended scale for the improvement of the property and the amelioration of the condition of the tenantry settled on it. A sum of Rs. 17,482 was laid out in various ways, and the management is to be congratulated on the marked improvement effected on the estate in the year under report. Thirty drinking wells and six irrigation wells were constructed by the management in addition to twelve built by tenants. A large number of old wells was repaired; arrangements were made for the establishment of a dispensary; a house in Bahraich for the ward was begun, and a new hamlet was founded. The distribution of quinine, tea, and blankets was doubtless highly appreciated by the tenants. Attempt was made to give effect to the proposals noticed last year for inducing the villagers to adopt tiled instead of thatched roofs to their houses, but without much effect. Even in cases where houses had been burned down the owners seem to have shown no inclination to take advantage of the easy terms offered by the estate for the supply of tiles. It will probably be no easy matter to change the established custom, and until tiles are generally adopted, those who have been induced to take them reap no practical advantage. The return showing the demand and collections in each village on the estate is open to the same remarks as were made last year. While collections generally were good, the balances in occasional villages are very heavy. In Patti and Gangauli for a second time, nearly a fourth of the rental was in balance. Again no explanation is offered, and again it is necessary to impress upon the officer in charge that due attention be paid to the details in the periodical returns from his manager. More care, too, must be taken in realising the sums due to the estate under decree.

The reports of the ward's progress continue to be very satisfactory. On the completion of the house that is being built for him in Bahraich, he will be required to live there and attend the district school.

No. 25, Bangaha (Court of Wards). Normal income, Rs. 10,000; credit balance on 30*th September*, 1884, Rs. 1,36,000.

This was the last year of management of this estate, which was handed over to the ward shortly after the close of the year, on his attaining his majority. The estate continued to be leased to the ward's mother, by whom all demands were paid up in full. A sum of Rs. 5,000 was provided in the budget for improvements, but nothing further was done than the provision of a large quantity of bricks for wells and for a house for the minor. The estate is small and is already well provided with the means of irrigation. Sardar Baghel Singh is well spoken of by the estate's officer. He passed the entrance examination of the Calcutta University in 1882 and is now studying law. He is fortunately of a character that renders it unlikely that he will squander the large sum of ready money made over to him or otherwise mismanage his estate. The litigation in which the estate was involved has been satisfactorily concluded.

No. 26, Mirabad (Court of Wards). Normal income, Rs. 2,900; credit balance on 30*th September*, 1884, Rs. 2,100.

The year under report was an unfortunate one for the estate, owing mainly to the litigation in which it was involved, the expense of conducting which was considerable. The estate has been considerably reduced owing to the surrender of a portion of it to certain of the ward's relatives. The villages are mostly held under lease, and the collections from the lessees were not good.

The small sum of Rs. 300 which was provided for in the budget for improvements could not be expended in full.

The ward completed his sixteenth year on the 24th April, 1885. He has made little or no progress in his studies, and his private tutor having failed to teach him anything, he has been sent back to school. The estate is under the management of the tahsíldár of Bahraich. It appears to require the special attention of the estates officer.

No. 27, Nikahi (Court of Wards). Normal income, Rs. 1,250; deficit on 30*th September,* 1884, Rs. 2,300.

The debt on this small estate, which consists of a single village, has been gradually reduced from Rs. 5,200. The payment to principal during the year was only Rs. 200. A sum of Rs. 2,300 is still due, and it is estimated that it will take six or seven years of careful management to pay it off. Takávi advances were made to the tenants of the village and to the ward's mother, and a well for drinking purposes was built. There was no litigation of any kind. The estate suffered much from drought, and both the kharíf and rabi harvests were very deficient. In consequence of this the collections on account of rental demand were not good, and it was not considered advisable to put pressure on the tenants to pay.

The ward is in his twentieth year, but has made very little progress in his studies. He is now an apprentice in the office of the District Superintendent of Police.

Gonda District.— Officers in charge, Mr. White, C.S., Deputy Commissioner, and Mr. Bateman, C.S., Assistant Commissioner.

No. 28, Bilaspur (Court of Wards). Normal income, Rs. 75,000; credit balance on 30*th September*, 1884, Rs. 47,500.

Owing to deficient rainfall the season is said to have been an unfortunate one for this estate, and it was found necessary in certain parts to direct the subordinate establishment to refrain from putting pressure on the tenants for full payment. The collections were, notwithstanding, 95 per cent. of the demand, and it must be inferred that either the rents are very light or the damage to the crops was less considerable than the estates officer supposed. The progress made in improvements is again somewhat disappointing, more especially as the past season has illustrated the great value they would be to the estate and the tenants alike in a year of scanty rainfall. The estates officer contrasts the bad outturn of the rabi crops in parts of this estate with the excellent wheat crops in really well-irrigated tracts of the neighbourhood. During the short period in which this property will remain in the care of the Court of Wards arrangements for the permanent improvement and protection of it must be kept steadily in view. A sum of Rs. 40,000 was budgetted for under improvements, and an expenditure of Rs. 10,417 is shown under this head. Of this latter sum, however, about Rs. 4,000 was spent in repairs to a mosque and to the Rája's house at Atraula. A new tank and bazaar have been constructed at considerable cost, but the most satisfactory feature in the year's record of improvements is the provision of 30 new wells by the estate and the repairing of a number of old ones. The collection in items of miscellaneous income was good, and it is a sign of creditable management that litigation was very carefully limited. More attention should, however, have been given to the recovery of decreed dues. During the year the minor ward continued to live with his father-in-law at Nánpára, and the Commissioner is satisfied that his education has been well looked after, and that he has benefited in every way by the Rája's influence.

No. 29, Paska (Court of Wards). Normal income, Rs. 32,600; deficit on 30*th September,* 1884, Rs. 5,100.

This estate suffered less than other parts of the district, the water-level being near the surface. The collections of rent were not, however, particularly good, the proportion collected being about 95 per cent. The arrears shown against this estate are very considerable, and those that are absolutely irrecoverable should be struck off. The collection of the remainder requires special supervision. The further report promised in regard to this point should not be delayed. The amount spent on improvements was nominal; and it has again to be recorded that, practically, nothing was done in this direction. No explanation of the want of attention devoted to this branch of administration of the estate has been given. The progress in the liquidation of the debt has been rapid, and the balance will be paid off without trouble in the current year; but it is much to be regretted that while under management so little has been done for the improvement of the property.

Rae Bareli District.—Officer in charge, Mr. L. G. Evans, Assistant Commissioner.

No. 30, Kuri Sadauli (Encumbered Estate). Normal income, Rs. 62,300; deficit on 30*th September,* 1884, Rs. 57,000.

The progress made during the year was excellent in every way. The collections both of arrears and current rents were extremely satisfactory, and the debts of the estate were reduced from Rs. 75,000 to Rs. 57,000. The liquidation of the debt is at last being rapidly effected. In the rice tracts rents in kind have in a few instances been substituted for rents in cash; and the estates officer is of opinion that further change in this direction would in such tracts be advantageous to the tenants. Twenty-one wells were dug by tenants, who were encouraged by advances or by grants of land. A bazaar was constructed on the Lucknow road, which is said to be already a great success and a source of income to the estate as well as of convenience to the tenantry; and other improvements were effected by the estate. The ward, who is at Aligarh College, is said to be very advanced for his age, and is reported on most favourably.

No. 31, Bahua (Encumbered Estate). Normal income, Rs. 21,000; deficit on 30*th September*, 1884, Rs. 64,500.

The attention that has been paid to the affairs of this heavily-embarrassed estate has been rewarded with encouraging results. Notwithstanding the trying season generally and the poor kharíf harvest on this estate, the collections were excellent, except in the miscellaneous items of income; and substantial, if not very great, progress was made in the reduction of the debt. The improvements effected in past years were specially fruitful in this season of deficient rainfall, when the estates officer reports that the rabi was raised mostly by irrigation. In the droughts of 1877 and 1878 it suffered the most severely of all the estates in this district; but of a cultivated area of 8,060 bíghas, it is reported that 7,960 bíghas are now under irrigation, 5,164 of which are ensured by wells. The proved value of the improvements made on this property should stimulate the management to further action in other estates. In the review for 1881-82 it was mentioned that in the two previous years no less a sum than Rs. 13,240 had been laid out on the improvement of this property, and the Deputy Commissioner said that the effect of this outlay on the rental would be seen in the returns for 1883. It was natural to expect an increase to the rental, for a higher rent should be obtained on lands irrigated by new wells constructed at large expense. The rental, which, however, was then Rs. 20,811, has increased in this interval of two years by only Rs. 212. It is true that the rents now come in much more punctually even in a dry season, but the estate is so gravely embarrassed that this matter must receive special attention, and the Deputy Commissioner should in his next report explain in detail the conclusions at which he may arrive. The estate has now been fifteen years under management. The debts, which were originally upwards of a lakh of rupees, were compromised in 1877 for a loan of Rs. 70,380 advanced by Government for the payment of the creditors. Intermediately there have been two disastrous seasons with very deficient rent-collections and a large outlay on well construction. But the result of the seven years' management since the loan was taken from Government has been a reduction of the principal of the debt from Rs. 70,380 to Rs. 64,500. The estates officer describes the payments to debt in the year under review as the best yet made, but they came to only Rs. 2,700 ; and at this rate it will take two generations to clear the property. It is therefore incumbent that there should be a strict inquiry as to the sufficiency of the present rental, and it is necessary to repeat the request made in the last review, that, in view of the opinions the Deputy Commissioner may form on this matter, he will consider and report how the progress of liquidation may be expedited.

No. 32, Amáwan, Abdul Hakím Khán (Encumbered Estate). Normal income, Rs. 16,800 ; deficit on 30*th September*, 1884, Rs. 6,600.

The collections were scarcely so good as the preceding year's, but forbearance was required, as the estate suffered more than others, and both harvests were poor. It was found necessary to borrow Rs. 2,500 from the Bank of Upper India for the marriage of Muhammad Saiyid Khan, and practically little progress was made in the clearing off of the debts during the year. It is to be regretted that the account of the ward is still unfavourable, and the Deputy Commissioner should see to it that he attends punctually at school. Three wells were built by tenants during the year, and four-fifths of the estate appear now to be irrigated.

No. 33, Khajuri (Encumbered Estate). Normal income, Rs. 7,000 ; deficit on 30*th September*, 1884, Rs. 3,000.

The balance of rent demands in this estate are very small, and will probably be cleared off during the present year, when it is anticipated that the debt will also be paid off. An unsatisfactory account is received of the young owner.

No. 34, Korihar Satáon (Court of Wards). Normal income, Rs. 77,000 ; deficit on 30*th September*, 1884, Rs. 10,000.

The collections were good ; and the arrears that have accumulated are principally in one village of the estate, where a series of bad rice crops has embarrassed the peasantry. The Commissioner agrees with the officer in charge that in such tracts a reversion to the system of payment of rent in kind would be beneficial both for the estate and for the tenants; but the astute owner, from whom the village was purchased, seems to have found the cash system the best for the proprietor in the long run ; and if in the coming rains the district has again a good season, the manager will probably find little difficulty in recovering his arrears. Steps have been taken by the estates officer to have the arrears that were hopelessly irrecoverable struck off altogether from the rent-roll, and judicious arrangements were made for realising the remainder by instalments. The deficit of Rs. 10,000 is the balance of the purchase-money of a village, and was to have been paid off shortly after the close of the year: there will then be a balance in hand, the question of the investment of which must be taken up separately. The expenditure on improvements was trifling, and, as the Commissioner remarks, much more might have been done. Eight wells only were dug by tenants, and nothing at all was done by the estate to secure the protection of any of the villages by irrigation. Attention to this matter is very necessary, for the interesting table Mr. Evans has attached to his report shows that of all the large estates in the district this stands most in need of an extension of irrigation, and the funds are ample, if the manager can himself superintend the construction of wells. The suggestions of the Commissioner as to the improvement of the dispensary maintained by the estate have no doubt received attention. The ward, who has been educated at Aligarh, and of whose training a very creditable report is received, takes an interest in the property and promises to turn out a good landlord.

No. 35, Bela-Bhela (Court of Wards).

As noted in last year's review, this property was made over to the ward shortly after the commencement of the year, with an invested balance of over Rs. 16,000.

No. 36, Bhiragobindpur (Court of Wards). Normal income, Rs. 49,000; deficit on 30th September, 1884, Rs. 1,70,200.

The management of this estate was entrusted, as before, to Sardár Autár Singh, who was in ill-health during a part of the year. The collections, however, were on the whole satisfactory; and notwithstanding some heavy marriage expenses, the debt was reduced by about Rs. 10,000; and the engagement with Government as to the repayment of the loan has up to date been kept. Advances for seed, cattle, and repairs to wells were made to the tenants, but not to any great extent; and more might perhaps with advantage have been done in the way of permanently improving the estate.

No. 37, Shankarpur (Court of Wards). Normal income, Rs. 36,000; credit balance on 30th September, 1884, Rs. 18,500.

The collections were better than in the previous year, the full rent of the part of the estate lying in Jessore being received. There are still, however, heavy arrears of past years, in the reduction of which it is hoped that considerable progress will be made during the present season. A sum of about Rs. 1,000 was spent on improvements, which were undertaken on an extensive scale. The dispensary supported by the estate mantains its reputation as a popular institution, and one that does much good work. The talúqdár, a well-educated youth, lives in Lucknow, in order to attend the Canning College, and the Commissioner's report of him is all that could be desired.

The credit balance is very large, and early arrangement should be made for a suitable investment.

No. 38, Pandriganeshpur (Court of Wards). Normal income, Rs. 70,000; deficit on 30*th September*, 1884, Rs. 2,18,000.

The question of the right of this estate to take possession, as mortgagee, of the 31 villages forming the Dharupur estate was decided in favour of the estate by the Privy Council after the close of the year. During the year these villages had been managed by the estates officer as receiver. The collections on the property as a whole were good, and the arrears are partly covered by decrees and bonds. The recoveries of miscellaneous income were particularly good, and show that, as Mr. Evans remarks, the sarbarahkar, Shakur Ahmad, has maintained a close and systematic control of his subordinates. More was done than in the majority of the Rae Bareli estates in the way of improvements; and an expenditure of over Rs. 1,500 was incurred partly in advances for seed and cattle, but principally on the construction of wells and embankments. Seven wells were sunk by tenants and two by the estate. A property held by the estate in mortage was redeemed by the mortgagor, and the redemption money paid in reduction of the estate's debt, which stood at Rs. 2,18,000 at the end of the year as compared with three lakhs at the commencement. The debt is now little more than half what it was in 1878, when the estate was brought into Court of Wards. The redeemed villages had a rental of nearly Rs. 20,000, and with a normal income of Rs. 50,000 the future progress in the satisfaction of debt cannot be so rapid. A continuance, however, of the excellent management of the last six years will ensure a sufficiently expeditious discharge, and the Lieutenant-Governor would not be dissatisfied if there was more liberal expenditure on the building of wells in those villages which are at present but partially protected against drought.

No. 39, Binohra (Court of Wards). Normal income, Rs. 12,000; deficit on 30*th September*, 1884, Rs. 28,000.

The collections were fair, except in the miscellaneous items of income, but very little progress could be made towards the reduction of the debt. Three wells were made by tenants with assistance; but the estate is already admirably irrigated (86 per cent. of the cultivated area), and little remains to be done for improvement. The position of the estate is anything but satisfactory, and it requires the closest attention. The estate belongs to two sisters, and the Commissioner suggests that, with their consent, the son of one of them should be entrusted with the management of the property. The suggestion should not be lost sight of, and inquiry should be made as to whether it is possible to carry it out.

No. 40, Gaura Kusehti (Court of Wards). Normal income, Rs. 77,000; deficit on 30*th September*, 1884, Rs. 34,500.

The collections on account both of the current demand and of arrears were very good, and the management of the property was evidently closely supervised. The sarbarahkar has since been made a munsif: if his legal capacity is equal to his executive ability, the appointment will be a happy one. Improvements were not neglected, though there is not much information in the report as to what was done in this direction. They included the construction of an embankment, which has turned out a very useful work, and stores up a large amount of water. The debt was reduced nearly by half—from Rs. 56,000 to Rs. 34,500—and should be cleared off within two years.

The adopted son of the widow lady who owns this property has been at the Canning College, and, though backward in his education, is reported to have made good progress during the year.

No. 41, Udrehra (Court of Wards). Normal income, Rs. 37,000; deficit on 30*th September*, 1884, Rs. 55,300.

The estate is managed by the son of the talúqdár, and his arrangements are not highly spoken of. The collections on account of the current demand were good, but the old arrears are very high, and a great part of them is said to be absolutely irrecoverable. A statement attested by the owner has been received for the remission of nearly Rs. 9,000; and the remainder of the outstandings should be carefully examined. The crops of the present harvest have been excellent, especially in the rice tract, and it may be anticipated that the next report will show much progress in dealing with the arrears. Little was spent on improvements; and in this estate, as in others, the officer in charge might consider whether a little encouragement would not induce the tenants to action on their own account in the matter. The debt was reduced by over Rs. 10,000 during the year—a satisfactory result.

No. 42, Sehagáon Pachhimgáon (Court of Wards). Normal income, Rs. 9,000; deficit on 30*th September,* 1884, Rs. 10,000.

Owing to the character of the tenants and the obstructions placed in the way of the management by the talúqdár the estate is an exceptionally difficult one to deal with; and the sarbarahkar in charge seems unequal to the task. The collections were, however, better than in the previous year, and fair progress was made in the reduction of the debt. The London and Delhi Bank now remains the only creditor. No less than 97 per cent. of the cultivated area in this estate is said to be irrigated, and the estates officer mentions the special excellence of the sugarcane grown. Half of the irrigation, however, is from tanks, and endeavour should be made to encourage the tenants to protect their crops by wells.

No. 43, Badhampur (Court of Wards). Normal income, Rs. 2,000; credit balance on 30*th September,* 1884, Rs. 300.

There is little to notice in the management of this small estate. The collections were as usual excellent, and the balance at credit was increased from Rs. 80 to Rs. 300.

No. 44, Lodhwári (Court of Wards). Normal income, Rs. 18,900; cash balance on 30*th September,* 1884, Rs. 2,800.

The collections were, as in the previous year, excellent, and much credit is due to the estate officials for the order and good feeling they have introduced among a tenantry notorious at one time for unruliness. A sum of over Rs. 7,000 owed by Ráni Dakhina Kuar to the talúqdár was paid up; with the aid of the surplus collections the remaining debt on the estate of Rs. 18,000 was completely paid off and a considerable cash balance left in hand. Under the circumstances, a larger expenditure in improvement of the property would have been well laid out. The estate is the property of Mian Uttam Singh, Diwan of Mandi in the Panjáb, and was, at his instance and in consideration of his services, taken into the Court of Wards. Now that the debts have been all cleared off, orders have been given to restore it to his management.

Sultánpur District.—Officer in charge, Mr. Wells, Assistant Commissioner.

No. 45, Kurwar (Encumbered Estate). Normal income, Rs. 1,10,500 ; deficit on 30*th September*, 1884, Rs. 1,14,000.

In both the Fyzabad and Sultánpur portions of this estate the collections were excellent, the proportion of the current demand collected being 98 per cent. in Sultánpur and 97·6 per cent. in Fyzabad. The difficulties that formerly attended the management in effecting the collections would seem from the results to have been successfully overcome, and no trouble in realising the dues of the estate is reported from either district. The debt, which in 1877 amounted to Rs. 1,93,000, was reduced in the year under report from Rs. 1,32,000 to Rs. 1,14,000, and it is now anticipated that there will be no difficulty in clearing off the balance before the coming of age of the young Rája. A number of wells have been sunk by the tenants, but the character of the subsoil on the estate is not favourable to the undertaking of well-sinking on a large scale. Experimental spring tube wells, sunk by the manager of the estate with professional assistance, have met with some success, though it is impossible as yet to say whether the results would justify any considerable extension of this most interesting experiment, which will determine whether a better system can be successfully prosecuted than that of the brick-lined percolators, which run dry in a couple of years of successive drought. A further report is promised of the results of the Sultánpur experiment as well as of the improvements effected in Fyzabad after they have been personally inspected by the estates officer. Besides the construction of wells, progress has also been made in the excavation of tanks and building of embankments; and in Fyzabad some attention was given to the encouragement of vaccination. The progress made during the year is altogether very satisfactory.

No. 46, Mahona (Encumbered Estate). Normal income, Rs. 45,700; deficit on 30*th September*, 1884, Rs. 68,000.

The collections were exceedingly good: of the current demand only Rs. 168 remaining uncollected. The arrears of former years are still heavy, and inquiries are being made as to the total amount that is irrecoverable with a view to having it struck off. It is satisfactory that there has been a decrease in the vexatious litigation which formerly distinguished this estate. The collections of decreed dues was exceedingly poor, and more attention is needed to this detail throughout the district. The marriage of the talúqdár's son involved the estate in some expenditure, but, notwithstanding this, the debt was reduced from Rs. 79,000 to Rs. 68,000, and the estate is now in a fair way to solvency. Less progress has been made in the construction of wells than in the year preceding; but the matter was not neglected, and the extent to which it was found possible to induce the tenants to carry out the improvements themselves was satisfactory. They finished 12 wells and the others had been begun, and the Deputy Commissioner mentions with pleasure the spirit of cheerful enterprise that had been roused among the tenantry generally.

No. 47, Jamu (Encumbered Estate). Normal income, Rs. 31,000.

The debts of this estate, which, when it was taken under management, amounted to Rs. 58,700, were paid off in full during the year, and the estate was released in August. The collections were not so good as in other estates, the cause assigned being the knowledge of the tenantry of the impending release of the estate. Little was done in the way of improvements, but a few wells were constructed, and before release the terms were settled in every case in which a tenant had built a well under agreement with the manager of the compensation he was entitled to should the talúqdár hereafter seek to disturb his occupation. This will at least avoid the prolonged and harassing litigation which constantly occurs in cases of the sort.

No. 48, Partábpur (Encumbered Estate). Normal income, Rs. 8,400; deficit on 30*th September*, 1884, Rs. 11,600.

Part of the estate previously under management has been released on conclusion of a partition; the normal income, therefore, is somewhat less than before. The complicated intermixture of tenure consequent on the partition seems to make it hopeless to attempt improvements; and, again, no action was taken in this respect. Some reduction was made in the debt; the accounts were brought into order, and the affairs of the estate generally have now been placed in a more satisfactory position. The Deputy Commissioner should endeavour even now to remedy as far as possible by interchange of fields a condition of tenure which is fatal to the advancement of any of the properties concerned.

No. 49, Bhadayan (Court of Wards). Normal income, Rs. 30,300; deficit on 30*th September*, 1884, Rs. 20,000.

Of the current demand only a trifling sum was left uncollected. Owing to the marriage during the year of the ward, a considerable outlay on extraordinary personal expenses was incurred; but large payments were also made in liquidation of the debts, which were reduced by Rs. 5,000. A temporary loan of Rs. 1,000 had to be taken from a neighbouring estate before the close of the year which has now been repaid. Six wells were constructed during the year, three of them by the estate. Mr. Harington has given an interesting account of the difficulties that attend well-sinking in this part of the country.

"The excitements and duties of married life interfered somewhat with the ward's progress in education in the Sultánpur High School," but he has taken kindly to his studies again.

No. 50, Pali (Court of Wards). Normal income, Rs. 16,500; credit balance on 30*th September*, 1884, Rs. 13,500.

There is little to notice in the progress of this property during the year. The collections were good and the balance at credit of the estate was raised from Rs. 9,600 to Rs. 13,500. Part of the balance is lent to other estates; for the rest, which now comes to Rs. 9,545, a good investment is being sought. If no other investment has been found, this large sum should be put into promissory notes without delay. No notices of ejectment were issued, and the estate was hardly involved in any litigation. Little was done in the way of improvements, apparently because the tenants are ready themselves to dig kacha wells, and masonry wells cannot be safely sunk without expensive preliminary experiments. The ward shows an interest in his property; he is well educated and well spoken of generally.

No. 51, Unchgáon (Court of Wards). Normal income, Rs. 13,000; credit balance on 30*th September*, 1884, Rs. 24,900.

The collections were excellent and the surplus at credit of the estate has been substantially increased. Little was effected in the way of improvements, and some expenditure in this direction would probably be judicious. A sum of Rs. 2,082 awaits investment. The rest has been lent out on mortgage. The ward promises to turn out well, and the uniformly excellent reports of the wards in this district do much credit to the officers who have superintended their education.

No. 52, Walipur (Court of Wards). Normal income, Rs. 6,700; credit balance on 30*th September*, 1884, Rs. 17,100.

The rent collections were again exceedingly good. Some experiments in well-sinking were made in this estate, but apparently without any very definite results. More would possibly be effected in the way of improvements if the plan adopted with such success in Partábgarh of working through the tenants were followed here also. The ward is heir to the Karwar estate, and encouraging accounts are given of his character and progress.

Partábgarh District.—Officer in charge, Major Grigg, Deputy Commissioner.

No. 53, Kaithola (Encumbered Estate). Normal income, Rs. 30,400; deficit on 30*th September,* 1884, Rs. 20,500.

The rental of this estate was increased by over Rs. 1,000 in the course of the year; the increase being due partly to the plan of dispensing with middlemen and dealing directly with the tenants, partly to the raising of the rents in places where irrigation has been provided, and partly to the inclusion of three small villages with a rental of Rs. 242 that were previously not under the management. The collections during the year were excellent, the whole demand practically being realised, and the debt due by the estate was reduced from Rs. 27,000 to Rs. 20,500. Much attention was devoted during the year to improving the irrigation of the estate; old embankments were repaired or rebuilt, and two masonry wells, capable of irrigating 100 bíghas, were sunk by the estate; a few wells were also sunk by tenants; but in this estate, owing, in Major Grigg's opinion, to the interference of the talúqdár, tenants did not come forward to take advances for well-sinking with the same readiness as elsewhere. Exception was taken last year to the number of notices of ejectment issued, many of which were objected to with success. In the year under review Major Grigg was able personally to superintend the rent arrangements; and, except in six cases, no necessity for issuing notices arose.

Very fair success was obtained in the execution of decrees, and the recoveries from under-proprietors leave no longer opportunity for criticism.

The management of this heavily-indebted estate seems to have been eminently successful. Efforts should not be relaxed to overcome the ill-advised interference of the talúqdár in the measures calculated to secure permanent benefits to the estate by effecting an improvement in the water-supply.

No. 54, Rájapur (Encumbered Estate). Normal income, Rs. 13,300; deficit on 30*th September*, 1884, Rs. 8,000.

In this estate also there was a slight increase in the rental, which was practically collected in full. Notwithstanding some heavy extraordinary expenses, considerable reduction was made in the deficit, but it will still probably take two years to clear off the whole. The making of improvements—principally embankments and wells—was vigorously prosecuted by the estate, and a few wells were also sunk by the tenants: that more was not effected through the agency of the people themselves was probably due to the fact that Major Grigg had not himself been able to visit the estate earlier. However, a great deal was done, and in one village alone, by repairing and clearing a couple of old wells, 120 bíghas were brought under irrigation; and in another, by sinking an inner cylinder, a well which supplied two buckets was enabled to give work for six. The estate is not badly off in the matter of wells, and Major Grigg considers that its requirements would now be fully met by the grant of suitable advances to tenants. The debt has been reduced from its original sum of Rs. 30,500 to Rs. 8,000, and the balance is so small that the Deputy Commissioner might consider with the proprietor the feasibility of his paying it off and resuming the management.

No. 55, Madhpur (Court of Wards). Normal income, Rs. 6,100; deficit on 30*th September*, 1884, Rs. 17,000.

Owing to deficient rainfall the kharíf crop in this estate was a poor one; but the collections were good and were apparently made with ease. Much was done in the way of improvements both directly by the estate and through the agency of tenants, who were assisted with advances of money or in other methods. Three masonry wells were constructed by the estate and five by tenants, who also dug a number of kacha wells; two embankments were also built. Wells are easily constructed on this estate, and Major Grigg believes that by granting favourable leases to tenants they may be multiplied without much difficulty. The present Deputy Commissioner will, it is hoped, maintain these measures for the development of the property. Two of the mortgaged villages of the estate were redeemed during the year, but not much was done towards the reduction of the debt. The ward is said to be growing a fine lad and to be making good progress with his studies.

No. 56, Bargáon (Court of Wards). Normal income, Rs. 21,500; deficit on 30*th September*, 1884, Rs. 64,000.

The collections were good, and but for accidental circumstances would have been better. The collections, current and arrear, amounted to over 102 per cent. of the current demand. The accounts of the estate, which had got into much confusion, were put on a satisfactory footing. Much was effected in the way of improvement, and the tenantry were encouraged in every way to undertake the carrying out of improvements themselves. The result was very encouraging, nine wells being constructed by their agency capable of irrigating 587 bíghas. Other wells were sunk by the management; and one disused well, said to be capable of irrigating 120 bíghas, repaired and made as good as new. Altogether the improvements on this estate seem to have been carried out with more than ordinary energy and judgment. Nearly Rs. 10,000 was paid during the year towards the liquidation of the debts, but the clearance of the estate must necessarily be a slow process.

No. 57, Harakhpur (Court of Wards). Normal income, Rs. 400; credit balance on 30*th September*, 1884, Rs. 474.

The rents were collected in full, and there is now a small sum at the credit of the estate, which will be made over to the ward on his coming of age in the current year, when the estate will be released. About Rs. 400 were spent in redeeming a village of the estate that had been mortgaged.

No. 58, Shamspur (Court of Wards). Normal income, Rs. 23,900; deficit on 30*th September*, 1884, Rs. 19,100.

The suggestion made in last year's review regarding four villages of this estate that had been transferred to the roll of estates attached in execution of decree has been adopted, and their accounts are now amalgamated with those of the rest of the estate. The collections were good, and the amount embezzled by the former manager of the estate was recovered in full. As in the other estates in this district, much was effected in the way of improvements, and the judicious arrangements made were successful in securing the co-operation of the tenantry. Twenty-two masonry wells, capable of irrigating 1,056 bíghas, were constructed by tenants and others, while the estate spent a considerable sum in the renewal of embankments. The debts of the estate were reduced from Rs. 30,000 to Rs. 19,000, and it may therefore be confidently anticipated that in a couple of years more the estate will be free of debt. The estate was not very successful in its litigation in the Civil Court. The proprietor of this estate was disqualified on his own application, but the Deputy Commissioner might now with advantage consider whether the disqualification still holds good.

In this and the other estates of this district Major Grigg brought to bear on all the details of management an energy and minuteness of supervision which have had admirable results in the good government and development of the estates.
